

Spotlight on the University of Montevallo Police Department (UMPD)

Confidence in your personal safety makes it easier to reach your intellectual potential. The University of Montevallo's Department of Public Safety is committed to keeping the campus safe and sound. The University provides a full service Public Safety Agency 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and we're committed to maintaining an atmosphere on campus where students feel comfortable. The Police Department strives to provide personal service to students to help ensure their safety on campus such as:

Protective Escort Services – An on-campus service to provide protective escort for members of the campus community. This service primarily serves persons who find it necessary to travel alone on campus late at night. To arrange for an escort, call 665-6155.

Alertus Mobile App: A Panic Button on Your Phone – The Alertus Mobile Recipient App offers a panic button feature that allows users to request help by sending geo-targeted incident reports directly to the UMPD. The reports will be received and handled by the University Police. For more information about the Alertus App and for set up information visit montevallo.edu/police-services.

UM Alert Emergency Notifications – The University of Montevallo utilizes a state-of-the-art rapid alert system called UMAAlert. This system provides members of the campus community with the most advanced rapid communication program currently available for schools. UMAAlert enhances the timeliness of UM's emergency communications and provides the University with a convenient and effective tool for informing students, faculty and staff of human or natural threats. Through UMAAlert, members of the University community, whether on campus or not, can be notified within moments of an urgent event. Emergency messages can be sent via telephone (landline and cell), voicemail, text messaging and email. New user accounts are automatically registered twice a month (on the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays). Students may add parent emails/phone numbers as needed to their UMAAlert contact list by updating their information online. To register for UMAAlert or to update your account information go to myschoolcast.com/go/um and use your official UM username and password.

Vehicle Registration – The UMPD is the authorized authority for University of Montevallo Vehicle Registrations, along with Parking and Traffic Enforcement.
