

Erica V. Roberson, Ph.D., CCC-SLP

205-665-6723 / erobers2@montevallo.edu

EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy, Howard University, Washington DC

Communication Sciences & Disorders – May 2021

Dissertation- “The Evolution of Ebonics: Exploring the Evolution of African American Lexicons from Generation X Through Generation Z”

Masters of Science, Howard University, Washington, DC

Communication Sciences & Disorders – May 2015

Bachelor of Science, Alabama A&M University, Huntsville, AL

Communication Sciences & Disorders – May 2013

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Assistant Professor and Clinical Supervisor

University of Montevallo, Montevallo, AL, August 2021-Present

Speech-Language Pathologist and Clinical Supervisor (PRN)

Rehabilitation Services, Inc., Laurel MD, May 2016 – Present

Speech-Language Pathologist

Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS), Silver Spring, MD, August 2016 – 2021

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Graduate Courses

CSD 543 Seminar in Stuttering

Undergraduate Courses

CSD 101 Survey of Communication Disorders

CSD 481 Clinical Policies and Procedures

GUEST LECTURES

“Early Intervention: Treatment Methods and Intervention” Howard University, Department of Communication Sciences & Disorders, April 2019| Co-presenter

“American Professional English: Code Switching, Accents, and Dialects” Howard University, School of Communications, September 2018| Co-presenter

“The Misdiagnosis of African American English Speaking Students in Speech Pathology”, Howard University, Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Spring 2018| Co-presenter

PRESENTATIONS

National Black Association of Speech Language & Hearing (NBASLH) National Convention- Virtual, March 2021| Oral Presentation: It's Lit! Redefining "Black Slang" for SLPs

Howard University Research Week, April 2019| Oral Presentation: “An Analysis of Speech-Language Pathologists’ Knowledge of the Sociolects in African American iGeneration Teens”, Advisor: Dr. Shameka Stanford

Howard University Research Week, April 2019| Poster Presentation: “An Examination of Educators’ Attitudes, Feelings, and Perceptions Toward African American English as a Coming of Age Social Dialect”

National Black Association of Speech Language & Hearing (NBASLH) National Convention, April 2015 | Poster Presentation: “Employment Experiences of SLPs Who Stutter”, Advisor: Dr. Kay Payne

SERVICE AND SCHOLARSHIP

University of Montevallo, Academic Support Subcommittee of TAC, 2021

Howard University Inside-Out Prison Exchange Program; Student Participant, 2019

Howard University Department of Communication Sciences & Disorders Graduate Assistant/Research Fellow, 2013-15, 2017-18, 2018-2019

ASHA National Convention| Minority Student Leadership Program (MSLP) Participant, 2013

LICENSURE & CERTIFICATION

ASHA Certificate of Clinical Competence

Maryland State Board of Examiners for SLP

Alabama Board of Examiners for SLP and Audiology (ABESPA) - pending